FALLING OFF IN MINING DIVIDENDS.

There are two discouraging elements in the incorporated mining industries at present. One is the few new discoveries that are being reported and the frequency of assessments, and the other is the decrease in the number of dividend-paying mines. It seems like a long time since there was a body of ore reported in any of the Comstock mines. The outside mines are doing no better. In the meantime the calls for money for mining developments are kept up with great regularity and annoying frequency. All this could be borne patiently, if it were all. But one after another of the mines hitherto relied upon for dividends are dropping out from that role. The San Francisco Bulletin says it is now a year since the last dividend was paid on the Enroka Consolidated and New York Hill. The Deadwood Terra has not paid since last January. The Father de Smet has paid only three dividends this year and none since April. The Ontario, after paying regularly every month for several years, stopped last January. The Northern Belle, another pretty reliable mine, has not paid since April. The Contention Consolidated, which has passed only two monthly dividends in three years, stopped paying last month. This is said to be due to the erection of Cornish pumps. The Navajo, after paying eight consecutive monthly dividends, passed the dividend for June, and also for this month. The Christy has not paid since February. The Silver King, which has paid every month since October, 1880, has passed the dividend for July. We have seen no notice of the Homestake dividend this month, now fully due.

THE PROSPECTOR'S MIRAGE.

An old Comstock miner named Keller, came down from Virginia yesterday morning on his way to North San Juan, where he lived and worked at placer mining 25 years ago. He has been in Nevada 23 years, and 20 years of that was spent in the Comstock mines, and during all these long years he has never been out of the State. Like thousands of Californians who left that State in the long ago, he knows of a place where he can make an ounce a day easily. He discovered it and prospected enough to know that there is "millions in it" and is confident the place has never been touched by anybody. He is now going back, full of years and experience, to take a look at the old diggings, confident that a fortune awaits him. Imagine the feelings of this zealous old miner when he steps from the stage at his old home in San Juan. The village he left is not there. No familiar face nor kindly welcome. Not a familiar landmark visible, save perhaps the rugged old Sierras. The trails leading into the mountains, worn smooth by the tread of busy miners, have been obliterated. The canyons have grown smaller and the mountains have dwarfed to insignificant hills, and worst of all, the old diggings, the source of many a midnight air castle, the object of his search, cannot be found—it is not there.

THE TELEGRAPHERS' STRIKE.

The telegraph companies having failed to comply with the demand of the operators a general "strike" took place yesterday morning, all of the operators in the leading cities joining the movement. We have watched with considerable interest the efforts of the operators to obtain justice, have deemed their requests reasonable, and hope they will be successful in securing their recognition by the Western Union Company, a corporation that can well afford to pay its employees decent wages for a decent day's work. It is paying dividends on a capital stock of eighty millions, three-fourths of which can correctly be dubbed "watered." This has been done at the expense of the people, and by making slaves of their workmen. This is a case where the "strikers" should be maintained by a public opinion which will cause a victory for the operators.

ARTHUR'S ASPIRATIONS.

The Buffalo Courier says: Mr. Arthur, is a man in the prime of life; has had remarkably good luck so far, and seems to enjoy the Presidency greatly. Why should he not desire a second term or cherish the ambition to become for the first time his party's candidate and the people's choice for the great office? It is safe to assume that he will make efforts to secure the nomination if, in his opinion, there are reasonable chances of success.

At the White House clothing store can be found everything in the clothing line. Such an establishment is worthy of patronage.

MAMMOTH TRACKS AGAIN.

Distinguished Scientists Investigate Gate—New Wonders.

[Carson Index, 19th.]

Yesterday morning brought to our city some of the most distinguished scientists of our country. They came for the express purpose of investigating the tracks at the State Prison. The names of these gentlemen are Professor G. Davidson, of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, W. P. Blake, of Yale College, and C. D. Gibbs, of the Academy of Science, San Francisco. Accompanying this party to the Prison were Horatio C. Burdard, Director of the U. S. Mints, Jas. Crawford, Supt. of the Carson Mint, and a Daily Index reporter.

On entering the Prison yard, the first thing that struck the eye were millions of impressions, from one-sixteenth of an inch to an inch in diameter. Hereupon, Prof. Davidson discoursed upon what he knew of the trail storm that several thousand years ago came from the southwest, and dropped its pellets on this, then the moist sand of the seashore. At once all the rest of the professors, and some who are not professors, joined in the discussion, and now and then the members of the party were seen putting their hands to their heads as if to hold on their hats, and it is yet in dispute whether or not this demonstration was because of hot heads, or to shield the head from the hail storm.

Then the company surrounded what had been the tomb of an elephant 12 feet long, with a foot 13 inches in diameter. Poor old Jumbo! Had he known at his death that he would have had such distinguished mourners to come and weep at his sepulchral home, he certainly would have laid out more expensive at his funeral for the uninitiated eye there seems nothing left of him but a great big grease spot. Like that of many great men centuries after death, he is now of far more importance than he was in his life time. The people of Nevada, regardless of politics, should at once circulate a petition to be presented to the next Legislature to have a monument erected on the spot where the "Old stick-in-the-mud" died, and thus became a martyr to science.

Near the engine house it could be plainly seen that elk and hogs had eaten from the same trough; and that a wolf, as Professor Blake remarked, had gone across the country on a "dead run," after our friend, the goose.

Warden Bell next had the floor, or rather the middle of the yard, around whom all collected, curious to know what he had to say. He went on to relate what Captain Dave, the Washoe Indian, had told him the day before. Here, "heep big Indian, all a same horse." [That there were a race of giants 15 feet in height is a tradition the Washoes, which does away with the whole scientific business]. The Indian said "no wolf track—one big dog." For the next one thousand years, it will be an open question whether the Indian is right, or these world-renowned professors. Prof. Davidson said that there is not a man track in the yard, they were, rather, quadrupeds. The other two gentlemen said it was no such thing they knew that they were man tracks. A compromise was finally made by all agreeing to report that one of Nevada's most popular Governors had trumped on the ground. Until the writer has had an ocular demonstration to the contrary, he will continue to advocate the theory of the oldest settler, viz. that of the Washoe Savant.

After the Warden had submitted to Director Burdard for his scientific views, a trade dollar, which a few days ago a convict had found in the bottom of the well 35 feet from the surface, the whole party repaired to the dining room, as Mr. Bell said, for turkey soup. Well, the Warden said it was turkey soup, but Prof. Davidson insisted that it was soup made from the mammoth bones that they had been investigating. And when Prof. Gibbs commenced to say that the "old man" of the quarry had washed his feet in the water we were drinking, the writer concluded that the crowd was too scientific for him, and got up and left. However, as soon as these Professors submit the result of their investigations to paper the Daily Index will give its readers the full benefit of this, the last scientific research into the mysteries of the Prison tracks.

Presidential Aspirants.

[S. F. Call.]

According to the replies received by the New York Times in response to inquiries, there seems to be about eighty persons more or less talked of in connection with the Presidency. A good many of the eighty are known only in their locality. Probably some of the comparatively little known are quite as able as others who have been more talked about in the newspapers. The Republicans have forty-one names to choose from and the Democrats forty. We trust that no injury will be done to any of the gentlemen mentioned in associating their names even remotely with the highest office in the gift of any people on the face of the earth. Presidential aspirations are said to be hard to get rid of and quick to revive when seemingly dormant. There is one man now living who persistently declined a nomination when it would have been nearly equivalent to an election; but this man arrived at this summit of philosophy through the fire of defeat. We refer, of course, to Horatio Seymour, who was badly beaten in 1868, and refused to be a candidate in 1880, when his election would have been almost a foregone conclusion.

The Ohio election takes place on October 9th next. In November following the States of Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Iowa and Minnesota also hold important State elections. All of these States voted for Garfield, except New Jersey, which gave a bare majority for Hancock. In view of the last Democratic wave which passed over the country, and the coming Presidential election in 1884, these trials of party strength will have more than usual interest.

The Tilden Boom.

The New York Times Philadelphia special says: "Samuel J. Tilden is now the one man spoken of and pressed in this city for the Presidential nomination. Careful inquiry among Democratic workers elicits the fact that there is Tilden enthusiasm and a boom which cannot be mistaken, and his adherents state that the election of Samuel J. Randall as Speaker of the House means the nomination of Samuel J. Tilden for President of the Democracy. This much the nearest and best friends Tilden has in Eastern Pennsylvania are free to admit. Peculiar significance attaches to a conversation had to-day between John R. Reed, one of Mr. Tilden's lieutenants, his recognized agent in Eastern Pennsylvania, and one of the visiting statesmen who traveled to Louisiana in 1876 to superintend the counting of the vote. Reed went to Greystone last Saturday and had a consultation with Tilden, and he admits that their talk was largely concerning politics. He places great stress, in a significant manner, on Tilden's physical condition, describing him walking from four to six hours a day and eating heartily, with no infirmities. His grip that of a youngster. His eye clear, his memory remarkable and his political judgment the best in this or any other country. He says also that Tilden does not seek the nomination from the Democratic Convention, but if it is given him he will make the same brave and determined fight which he did in the Centennial year."

Tilden's Strength in Indiana.

The New York World's Indianapolis correspondent says: "The Times' report of the Presidential feeling throughout the country, showing Tilden to be the first choice of Indiana Democrats, is laughed at by the McDonald men here, while the Hendricks men say it is a death knell to the McDonald boom. McDonald refused an interview to-night, but is said to be still a candidate for the first place. Three Democratic papers in this State have within the past week come over for Tilden and Hendricks, and it is admitted generally that the 'old ticket' is in the field."

NEW TO-DAY.

THOSE WOMEN FOLK.

How Hard-Headed Men Estimate Some Things Which They Don't Understand.

Anybody who has led a domestic life knows how common such things as the backache, and pains in the chest, are among the women who do the work. Often—and perhaps generally—the distresses are borne without much complaint. The women get about, and the machinery of the house goes on. Beyond this, those coarse-grained animals whom New England women call "the men folks," seldom look. So long as their wives or daughters are not actually in bed, under the doctor's care, the average thick-skinned husband and father gives the subject no attention. At the same time the poor household drudges—who deserve a better fate—creep around, broom or tenniss in hand, up stairs down stairs and out-of-doors, doing that woman's work, which "is never done." Losses of loved wives and fair girls—losses whose suddenness and unexpectedness astonish those wooden-pated husbands and fathers—fall, seemingly out of a clear sky, and form the logical sequel to the story of neglect.

Now, you men who stand at the heads of ten thousand such homes, allow us to drop a word in your receptive ears. If these women of yours are worth having, they are worth saving. That backache—that pain in the chest! What are they but indications of some organic trouble of the kidneys, the heart, or the lungs? End it at once by the application of BENSON'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTER. It will soothe that nervous distress, drive away that pain, banish that dull, weary back-ache, give new strength to the body and fresh hope to the heart. No other plasters will do this. The Benson's Plaster, however, is not made to sell but to heal. It is a remedy which never broke its promise—and never will.

Your druggist has it. But before paying your 25 cents and putting the plaster in your pocket, look for the word CAPSICUM cut in the middle.

IN AND OUT OF TOWN

What is Being Said and Done in a Small Way.

Warm days and cool nights.

A fine building lot on W street is offered for sale, cheap for cash. Enquire of C. W. Jones. See 50 cent column.

The Carson Index says "the next meeting of the Insane Asylum Board promises to be a lively one." What's up now?

G. W. Mapes returned from Paradise Valley yesterday. He was out buying cattle.

The District Court will be in session to-morrow for the purpose of disposing of some probate and bankrupt matters.

L. F. Dunn, Superintendent of the Eagle mine, near Unionville, Humboldt county, was a passenger for the West yesterday. He will leave his wife and children in Oakland for a few weeks rest and recreation.

The boys are making it warm for the dogs, and the chances are there will not be a dog left in town by the time the circus arrives.

A. P. Dallan, who formerly kept a bakery on Commercial Row, now of Oakland, is in Reno on a visit.

Jerry Schooling joined his family at Boca yesterday morning.

Frank Stoddard has returned from Hawthorne. Says he would rather starve in Reno than die a natural death in that place.

D. D. Bowen has returned from a month's trip to his ranch in Mason Valley.

L. Adams, Fish Springs, came in yesterday to lay in supplies.

C. S. Varian and family have returned from Independence Lake.

Whist is still the favorite game with the Club at Nasby's.

James Colwell and James Wethey, two healthy farmer boys, came over from Sacramento Valley yesterday to seek employment on this side of the mountains. They started into the country within an hour after the train stopped and doubtless both are at work by this time.

In Sacramento July 17th a son was born to the wife of William Williams, the gentleman who became partially insane at Susanville and was taken out through Reno to Sacramento about a month ago for medical treatment.

The Albion Consolidated has levied an assessment of 50 cents per share, delinquent August 20th. The mine is being worked for account of its creditors.

Will U. Mackey, the printer who recently left for Honolulu to take a position on the Commercial Advertiser, arrived in Reno yesterday morning on route to Carson to go to work in the State Printing Office. He says he don't want any of the Sandwich Islands.

The Index says "Warden Bell is making lots of friends through his courteous treatment of visitors to the Prison."

A. K. Lamb has just returned from a trip to the country around us, and reports the crop prospects of Sierra Valley as excellent, and that the mountains bordering the Truckee the lumbermen and loggers are actively at work.

Rev. Wm. Lucas and family returned to Reno yesterday morning, from Ohio. They are very glad to get back, and say it feels like home. Mr. Lucas will at once resume his duties as Rector of Trinity Church.

The Episcopal sidewalk has been repaired. The liberty of the press is thus abridged, for the JOURNAL loses many a good item.

Farmers in Steamboat Valley are complaining of the scarcity of water.

W. G. Hanks, ex-Sheriff of Storey county, was in Reno yesterday. He is here looking for a corps of waiters for his hotel at Wells station.

G. W. Bryant, Melter and Refiner at the Carson Mint, came up from the Bay yesterday morning.

A DASTARDLY ACT.

Sixteen Men Surround a Lunatic and Shoot Him to Death.

The particulars regarding the murder of the insane man Jenks in Pahranaagat Valley are given by the Pioche Record, as follows: "As near as we can learn, Charley Jenks was killed in the following manner: Jenks was trailed to his place in the mountains by several whites and Indians. After a few exchange shots with Jenks, in which the pursuing party opened the fire on him, the latter made them all hunt their holes, and aid was sent for. Upon the arrival of reinforcements, making sixteen persons, including whites and Indians, the rocks which concealed Jenks were surrounded and fire opened on him from all directions. Being attacked on all sides by hidden foes, Jenks started to run, when he was hit in the breast by a ball and fell dead immediately. When the parties went and examined the body of the dead man it was found that his gun was empty and a cartridge was not to be found around the person of the dead. Jenks used to get his food by going to the houses of the settlers after dark. The settlers would supply him with food, but there never was an attempt made to capture the insane man, a feat that could have been very easily accomplished. Jenks labored under the hallucination that members of the Masonic Order were after and trying to kill him. He said that he made efforts to escape from Pahranaagat Valley on several occasions, but was prevented doing so by the Masons heading him off."

Will Try Another Remedy.

The water company will make another effort in a day or two to remedy the trouble with the water in the reservoir, which has been bad for a month or six weeks, and is apparently growing worse instead of better. Some think the difficulty lies in the reservoir, and in order to determine that question the reservoir will be opened and its contents, fish and all, flushed into the river. It may be that sand and other decaying matter collecting in the bottom of the reservoir causes the trouble; but it seems impossible that the presence of fish could in any way render the water less pure. Be that as it may, when the reservoir is emptied the fish must of necessity go, and if flushing cures the evil people can charge the trouble to catfish or sandwast as they please. The fish, however, undoubtedly cause the water to have a riley look.

It Might Be Worse.

Some objection has been made to the structure erected east of the engine house by the circus company for bill posting, as it obstructs the view on Virginia street. Were it to remain a fixture it would be particularly objectionable, but as it will not be the temporary annoyance is in a measure compensated by the view it affords of the conspicuous chromos with which it is adorned. Once in a great while the yard is clear of cars and then the view is clear the whole length of Virginia street. True, that don't often happen, but when it does occur the people don't want the view obstructed by any permanent fixture.

Apportionment of School Monies.

Superintendent D. Allen has made the following apportionment of school monies:

District	No. Children.	Amt.
Franktown Dist.	No. 1, 48	$ 96 18
Washoe	" 3, 37	80 42

Total		$1,865 89

Another Engine.

Monumental Co., No. 8, of Virginia, offer for sale their engine, with 500 feet of hose, and all other property necessarily belonging to the "mashine," for $2,500. Many of our Reno firemen are anxious to have Reno buy this property, and think it necessary to have in case our little engine should give out. They say it could be housed alongside of our No. 1. There is no doubt the property would be a valuable acquisition to Reno's fire department, and if the people are willing to be taxed for it, a chance is offered to obtain a bargain.

District Court Matters.

The case of Smith vs. Logan was called in the District Court yesterday morning. The case is a proceeding against Logan for alleged violation of an injunction relative to certain water rights in Washoe Valley. The case was postponed until next Monday in order to procure the attendance of a number of important witnesses.

Death at the Hospital.

A man named Sullivan died at the county hospital Wednesday night of pneumonia. He was taken sick at the Pollard House about two weeks ago, and remained there until Tuesday evening, when he was removed to the hospital, where he died the following night.

BREVITIES.

Governor Kinkaid is in town.

Alvaro Evans proposes a trip to the Genoa hot springs.

Two of the JOURNAL crew are off on account of sickness.

Prof. W. P. Blake came down from Carson last evening.

For handsome and yet durable underwear the stock at the White House clothing store cannot be surpassed in any place on the coast.

E. Meyer has some of that fine Perique smoking tobacco; mixed with Lone Jack, and you have something better than even a two-bit cigar. Try a pound of it.

Gen. Day, father of Harry Day, of Carson, came down from the Capital last evening. The General has been in the service 60 years, and will be 80 years of age next February.

Robinson's Advance Car.

The advertising car which precedes John Robinson's great show, in its route on the railroad lines, arrived here yesterday in charge of Geo. W. Aiken, General Advertising Agent, with a corps of bill posters under the direction of Abe Ogden. The car is almost new, having been but four months in service. It is a splendid piece of workmanship, for though lightly constructed, carries when loaded with bills, posters, cuts, paraphernalia for posting, and its complement of men, the weight of eighteen tons. Though less elaborate in its exterior ornamentation than these cars usually are, its interior arrangement is a combination of elegance and convenience. Besides adjustable berths for the accommodation of twenty persons, and neat shelved closets capable of holding tons of required material, a luxurious office, admirably adapted to the transaction of business or the reception of guests, is fitted up in the center of the car. In this "curious" sanctum sanctorum, as it were, the urbane agent issues, through the medium of the newspapers, the gratifying information to the public that the "Greatest Show On Earth Is Coming," and gracefully dispenses Robinson's courtesies to all who, actuated by whatever motive, present themselves at its portal.

Clear the Rubbish.

At about the hour the fire occurred back of the Gazette office day before yesterday there was a similar occurrence at the Central hotel. The cooks had lighted the fire to prepare the evening meal and the chimney took fire and burned out, scattering burning soot over the back yard, which set fire to the rubbish in half a dozen places. Prompt action, however, extinguished the flames before any damage was done, yet it shows how necessary it is to be careful these dry, windy days.

The Strike.

The telegraph boys have matters well in hand. Out of 600 in New York 575 quit work. In San Francisco 36 out of the 40 struck. In Sacramento, Portland and Yreka all of them. In Salt Lake, Ogden and Denver nearly every one. In Virginia City one man walked. He was the only member of the Brotherhood. The strike is general, and the sooner the Company comes to terms the better it will be for all concerned.

Early Closing.

The dry goods merchants give notice that after next Monday their places of business will close at 8 P. M.

"DRAGGING PAINS."

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—My wife had suffered with "female weakness" for nearly three years. At times she could hardly move, she had such dragging pains. We often saw your "Favorite Prescription" advertised, but supposed like most patent medicines it did not amount to any thing, but at last concluded to try a bottle, which she did. It made her sick at first, but it began to show its effect in a marked improvement, and two bottles cured her. Yours, etc., A. J. HUYCK, Deposit, N. Y.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-swf-lyr.

The most healthy and popular drink of the season is the ice cold soda water, sparkling with purest gas and flavored with true, delicious fruit syrups, to be had only at Queen's soda fountain. *
